Dear PVA-WI Community,

I hope this message finds you well and filled with the same excitement and gratitude that I have in my heart as I step into my new role as the President of the Board for Paralyzed Veterans of America - Wisconsin (PVA-WI). It's an honor to introduce myself to you, and I am thrilled to be a part of this incredible community.

As some of you may already know, I have had the privilege of serving as the Vice President on our board for the past year. During that time, I have witnessed the dedication and passion of our members and the remarkable achievements we've accomplished together. Now, as your new Board President, I am committed to continuing the incredible work that we've begun.

Let's take a moment to celebrate the milestones we achieved together in the past year:

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Dear PVA-WI Members,

I hope this message finds you well and still basking in the glow of the fantastic evening we shared at the 2023 Annual Membership Banquet. It was a remarkable celebration of our community, our achievements, and the incredible spirit that binds us together. The banquet was truly a night to remember, filled with laughter, heartfelt conversations, and a shared sense of purpose. It was a privilege to see old friends reconnect and new friendships form as we celebrated our collective successes and looked ahead to a brighter future. But our journey of making a difference in the lives of our veterans doesn't end there. We have some exciting events lined up that I invite you all to participate in. On Veterans Day, November 11th, we are partnering with Texas Roadhouse in New Berlin for a special fundraiser. Not only will it be an opportunity to enjoy great food, but also a chance to show your support for our cause. A portion of the proceeds will go directly towards our programs and services, ensuring we can continue making a positive impact on the lives of our veterans. Stay tuned for more exciting events in the coming months!

Please do not hesitate to reach out and contact the office with any questions or concerns at 414-328-8910.

Hardworking athletes represent Team Wisconsin, and their dedication does not go unnoticed. A spotlight was placed on PVA-WI members Marvin Bailey and Ervin Mulkey at NVWG this year. The VA Portland Health Care System wrote the following Facebook posts about Marvin Bailey and Ervin Mulkey:

"Ervin Mulkey has been participating in National Veterans Wheelchair Games for at least eight years, maybe more. His coach says, "he will talk anyone's ear off regarding the power of participating in sports." #Adaptivesports has changed Ervin's life for the better. Ervin wants that great feeling for others so he often advocates for other Veterans to join the competition. The photo shows Ervin concentrating on Air Rifle, but he also competed in #discgolf #Boccia, #TableTennis, #Archery, #Cornhole, and #Softball. Congratulations on your Silver and Bronze medals at the 42nd Annual National Veterans Wheelchair Games in Portland, Oregon Ervin!"

"Marvin Bailey is a novice athlete at the National Veterans Wheelchair Games this year. He's one of the many Milwaukee VA Medical Center Veterans who traveled to Portland, Oregon and wore really fun cow-themed costumes. Marvin is jumping into #Sports4Vets in 2023 and recently completed The Golden Age Games where he competed for the first time in that event.

Marvin's coach calls him "such a cool guy," who "takes everything in and puts an optimistic spin on it, in spite of the challenges he lives with every day. He finds a way to do whatever he wants and is willing to try anything new. Way to go Marvin! We are very proud of you!"

Annual Membership Meeting & Chapter Awards

PVA-WI's Annual Membership Meeting was held on Sunday, September 17, at Roma Lodge in Racine. The Annual Membership Meeting was an extraordinary gathering, bringing our community together in a spirit of camaraderie and shared purpose. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our dedicated supporters, Generac, Gruber Law Offices, and the Waterstone Bank Foundation, for their unwavering commitment to our veterans. Thank you for your continued support and dedication to our veterans! Their support enables us to make a real difference in the lives of those who have served our nation.

During the meeting, our raffles and online auction provided not only exciting prizes but also vital funds to support our programs. The swearing-in of our new board members marked an important moment as we welcomed fresh perspectives and renewed dedication to our mission.

Lastly, perusing through the banquet photos allowed us to relive the joyous memories and connections made that night and take some time to look through the next couple of pages. Together, we are forging a stronger, more vibrant PVA-WI community.

Overview of Additional Benefits for Dependency

By Brenda Stencil, NSO

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) may pay additional disability compensation to a veteran for dependent(s) if the veteran's service-connected (SC) disability rating is at least 30%

Who qualifies as a dependent?

- Spouse (same-sex and common-law marriages)
- Minor children (biological and/or stepchild): under age 18
- School children (biological and/or stepchild): between the ages of 18 and 23 and attending an accredited educational institution
- Legally adopted children
- Parent(s): includes a biological parent, an adoptive parent, and a foster parent
- Seriously disabled (helpless) child

Note: Military spouses. If both the veteran and spouse have a combined disability rating of at least 30%, additional disability compensation can be received for each other and for their children.

How do I add my dependents to my award?

A quick and efficient way to add dependents became available in 2011, an online program called eBenefits (www.eBenefits.va.gov). However, VA recently uncovered a technical issue with VA.gov, impacting an estimated 56,000 veterans. Veterans who filed a claim requesting to update the status of their dependents were not successfully processed by VA.gov. This error resulted in delayed actions in adding or removing dependents and overall may have increased or decreased monthly benefits. VA is identifying the exact number of impacted veterans and directly contacting them by mail. The VA is implementing a fix to the problem to ensure this doesn't happen again.

Can I file a claim for dependents via mail?

Yes, the following forms are required to submit a claim for dependents:

- If claiming a dependent, submit a completed VA Form 21-686c, Application Request to Add and/or Remove Dependents.
- If claiming a child in school between the ages of 18 and 23; also submit a completed VA form 21-674, Request for Approval of School Attendance.

Thank You's

Good Morning,

I just wanted to thank you both [Scott and Amera] and the other volunteers for putting the banquet together. Once again, you all did a great job setting it up and running the event. I want to give you all a BRAVO!!!

Pat Howath, Veterans Affield

I recently attended the North Central PVA trap shoot in South Dakota made possible by your efforts and financial support for other members and myself. I wish to thank each of you personally: I had a very good time and enjoyed meeting other Veterans.

I was fortunate enough to be selected to be one of the members of Team Wisconsin and helped to take home first place.

Thank you.

Dale Nelson

Amera,

I wanted to take the time to thank PVA-WI and the donor of the tickets for the wonderful time we had at the Green Bay Packers game! I can't thank you all enough for this experience.

Tim Martin

Dear Amera and Linda,

On behalf of the Milwaukee VA Fisher House, we thank you for coming on August 23, 2023, to provide a home-cooked meal to the families staying with us. We appreciate the support and contribution in making this house a "home away from home" for all families who came to stay. Your donation demonstrates your concern for America's heroes and their families.

Thank you again.

SALMON-A-RAMA

On July 18th, 2023, 42 PVA members set sail on the beautiful waters of Lake Michigan to participate in Salmon-A-Rama. Proudly hosted by Reefpoint Marina in Racine, PVA members boarded 10 charter boats occupied by volunteers and healthcare professionals in hopes of catching the big ones! PVA members caught over 75 fish and received rewards based on the type of fish caught and its weight. In addition, Salmon-A-Rama Unlimited had a team of volunteers to clean and prepare the fish filets for participants to bring home and provided smoked salmon. PVA members also enjoyed a 3-course lunch at the Reefpoint Marina Brewhouse. Thank you to the Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation for supporting the event!

Above all, we want to give a big thank you to the Racine Fire Department and Reefpoint Marina boat captains for assisting our veterans in boarding the charter boats. With you, this event took place. We couldn't have asked for better weather and look forward to participating in Salmon-A-Rama next year. This was our third year participating, and we look forward to expanding this program!

Attention Caregivers

Caregivers,

Providing the support that a significant other, family member, or friend needs is a very loving and fulfilling experience. However, it's important to acknowledge that throughout this experience, you, too, need support. Caring for a Veteran with a spinal cord injury or disease, such as MS or ALS, is a unique journey, although you are not alone along the way. Please visit PVA-WI's newly released webpage for caregivers, Caregivers...you are heroes too!

This webpage can be found on our website,

<https://wisconsinpva.org/caregivers>, and will consist of specialized resources

- supporting caregiving for Veterans, caregiving for individuals with ALS, and
- caregiving for individuals with MS. Remember, prioritizing all areas of your
- health is essential!

UPDATE: Annual Clothing Allowance

VA is continuing to work on implementation of Public Law 117-328 – a change to the annual clothing allowance becoming an annual continuous/recurring payment until the veteran elects to no longer receive such payments or until VA determines the veteran is no longer eligible for such payments.

If you received a clothing allowance payment in 2022, you will receive the same number of clothing allowances in 2023 and thereafter. Veterans will be no longer required to submit applications.

The Veterans Benefits Administration and the Veterans Health Administration are continuing to collaborate on implementation of this law.

ALS & MS Resources

Please note that the MS Society has written this article. However, it contains information applicable to individuals with ALS or other spinal cord injury or disease.

Whether you have MS or not, emotional well-being is an important component of overall wellness.

For instance, emotions influence how you feel physically, your motivation to care for your health, how much and what you eat, how much you exercise, how you relate to other people and to the world in general, and how intensely and joyfully you engage in your chosen roles.

Like other aspects of wellness, emotional well-being can be nurtured and enhanced, even in the face of changes and challenges.

Focus on the positive

The field of positive psychology emphasizes personal growth and well-being, based on the core belief that all people want and look for happiness in their lives. Although happiness is defined in different ways, it involves focusing on your own unique goals and criteria for success and well-being.

Happiness allows us to thrive, solve the problems we confront in our lives and maintain a strong sense of hope.

Stay centered

The diagnosis of a chronic illness can be overwhelming. You will experience many emotions. Staying connected to your feelings, priorities and values can help calm emotional turmoil. Find personal meaning through spiritual practices or religious beliefs. For a secular option, access recordings of guided relaxation sessions in My MSToolkit from the University of Michigan.

Manage stress

Stress is part of everyday life. The diagnosis of MS can sometimes make the stress of daily life feel overwhelming. Many people with MS say that during stressful times, they experience more or worse symptoms. When the stress decreases, their symptoms seem less troubling or less severe. Learning to eliminate unnecessary stressors – and manage the ones that are here to stay – is essential for emotional balance. It's important to find an activity that helps you reduce stress. Some possibilities include deep breathing, meditation, individual or team sports, journaling, hobbies, time with family and friends, and traditional exercise.

Practice solution-focused problem-solving

Life's challenges and problems can mount quickly and sometimes feel too big to handle. Challenges can also be viewed as opportunities for creative problem-solving. This mindset can increase coping strategies and lead to enhanced resilience. With each success, feelings of competence, pride and self-confidence grow stronger and contribute to emotional well-being.

Pay attention to your mood

Depression, anxiety, and other mood changes are more common in people with MS than in others. This is, in part, a reaction to the challenges of a chronic illness and in part due to the changes caused by MS in the brain and the immune system. Depression is a serious yet treatable symptom of MS. It needs careful assessment and treatment, just like other MS symptoms. If, during the past 2 weeks, you have (1) often felt down, depressed, or hopeless and (2) had little interest or pleasure in doing things, it is important to seek professional help. Describe your symptoms to your healthcare provider. Get advice on locating a good provider in "What to Expect from Mental Healthcare: A Guide for People with MS."

- If claiming a seriously disabled (helpless) child, also submit all, relevant, private medical treatment records pertaining to the child's pertinent disabilities. The evidence must show that the child, before his or her 18th birthday, became permanently incapable of self-support due to a mental or physical disability.
- If claiming a parent, submit a completed VA Form 21-509, Statement of Dependency of Parents. The issue of dependency is a question of whether or not a parent is financially dependent and requires consideration of the parent's assets and expenses.

The Veteran's responsibilities:

Veterans must notify the VA of any changes to the status of their dependent(s) to include but not limited to: divorce, death of dependent(s), marriage of a child, parent(s) no longer financially dependent, and school attendance is discontinued.

Note: Separation or estrangement does not affect disability compensation awards unless 1) the spouse files a claim for apportionment or 2) the VA is paying additional compensation for stepchild(ren) whose biological or adoptive parent is the Veteran's spouse. Failure to notify the VA of life events, such as the death of a dependent, may result in an overpayment of benefits.

How can I check if my dependents are on my award?

You can check the details using your eBenefits account. Log into your account and check Dependents under "My Profile section." If the dependents listed are incorrect or there are no dependents listed, contact your PVA National Service Officer.

No one told me that!?!?

Any dependent child under the age of 18 is eligible for additional compensation and will automatically be removed from the award when he/she turns 18. Be watchful for the VA system-generated notices of potential entitlement to benefits mailed for each child turning age 13, 16, and approximately three months before turning 18. These letters inform veterans to make plans toward educational and vocational decisions. For instance, the Age 18 Notification letter includes VA Form 21-674, Request for Approval of School Attendance, if needed to establish school attendance.

Compensation may not be terminated at age 18 if veterans notify the VA of child being enrolled and not attending school.

Note: Some veterans may be eligible to Dependents' Educational Assistance (DEA/Chapter 35) under 38 U.S.C. Chapter 35 based on permanent and total disability status. DEA provides educational assistance to children and spouses. The VA may not concurrently pay additional benefits to or for a child receiving DEA.

VA Periodical Verification of Dependents:

VA mails a letter including VA Form 21-0538, Mandatory Verification of Dependents to automatically selected veterans to determine if the veteran is eligible to continue receiving additional compensation. This VA Form 21-0538 identifies by name the dependents for whom the VA is currently paying additional compensation. Veterans are required to respond within 60 days and may verify the status of their dependent(s) by contacting the VA National Call Center at (800) 827-1000) or completing and returning the VA Form 21-0538 to the VA. If a veteran fails to respond, it may result in reduction or discontinuation of benefits.
